Note: N/A used in a row denotes that no students were in this category.

Note for Annual Enrolled Student Headcounts: An asterisk (*) in a cell denotes that the cell contains fewer than 11 students.

¹ In this report, the beginner cohort refers to degree-seeking undergraduates who began their academic careers in fall 2016 or in either of the preceding summer sessions, or students who began their coursework in high school and enrolled as traditional college students in fall 2016.

² Graduation rates reflect the percentage of the beginner cohort who completed a degree at IU. Degree completion for graduation rates is measured by the accepted federal guideline of 150 percent of program length (1.5 years for certificates, three years for associates, and six years for baccalaureates). Graduation rates in this report are for the fall 2016 beginner cohort, with the exception of the first five-year span chart above.

³ Annual enrollment is based on guidelines for the federal Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) 12-month enrollment survey. This includes students who were enrolled at fall, spring, or summer census, or who were enrolled for fall, spring, or summer as of the end of the year. IPEDS 12-month annual enrollment includes both full-time and part-time, as well as degree-seeking and non-degree seeking students.

⁴ All athlete graduation rates and enrolled headcounts are limited to students who received athletically related gift aid (scholarships, fee remissions) where IU selected the recipient. Athletically related student aid means any scholarship, grant, or other form of financial assistance, offered by an institution, the terms of which require the recipient to participate in a program of intercollegiate athletics at the institution.
